RECLAIM INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

Saturday 12th March 2016
2.00pm-5.00pm
NUT Headquarters, Hamilton House,
Mabledon Place, London WC1H 9BD

International Working Women's Day began as a socialist political event to promote equal rights, women's wages and suffrage for all women.

It was founded to commemorate a strike of textile workers.

International Women's Day has its origins firmly rooted in the Trade Union Movement and the fight for equality.

Join us in a celebration of a woman's place in her union and remember those fantastic women who fought for suffrage and equality.

Speakers:

Megan Dobney Secretary of Southern and Eastern Region of the Trades Union Congress

Sarah Jackson co-author of East London Suffragettes Voices from History

Christine Blower General Secretary of the National Union of Teachers

Louise Raw author of The History of the Match Women's Strike

Kate Smurthwaite Comedian and activist

Newham Bookshop East London's Largest Independent Bookshop
